THE JUNIOR U. F. A. DISTRICT CONVENTION

On Friday, July 6th, one of the foremost Junior U.F.A. events of the year will be held in the Strathmore Memorial Hall, namely, the fourth district meeting of the Pilot Light Junior District Association. With good weather this should prove one of the high spots in Junior U.F.A. and young people's activities for some time.

At the present, the program for the day is still in formation, and very little can be reported. Several prominent speakers have, however, been approached, and there is every possibility that these will appear before the convention at the date mentioned. These men and women will give of their valuable time, and it is believed that a good attendance will be accorded them.

The convention will open promptly at 11 o'clock in the morning, with the singing of O Canada, presidents address, address of welcome, and a number of other items of interest. There should be no idle moment throughout the whole proceedings. A day of real sport, of fun, and of the interest to all who attend. To all those interested, therefore, a hearty invitation is extended.

B.C. PROVINCIAL SECRETARY Ian Mackenzie, who has accepted the position of Provincial Secretary of British Columbia under Premier Dr. Maclean. He will seek reelection in the forthcoming provincial general elections.

Golf Notes

The mixed foursome, which was being arranged for this week, has been postponed until Wednesday, June 27. Refreshments will be served in the Club House after the game.

All golf and tea members are invited to be present. Those desiring to arrange their own foursome may do so, and notify Mrs. Van Tighem or Mr. Patrick. On account of rain on Wednesday, June 13th, only one foursome was played, resulting in a win for Mrs. Whiteside and Mrs. Pierson.

Miss Amelia Earhart, (bottom), Boston's "Lady Lindy," and her companion, Wilmer Stulls (top). The honor of being the first woman to fly across the Atlantic died down to a keen competition between Miss Earhart and Miss Mabel Holt.

Crop Report

C. P. R. ALBERTA CROP REPORT

Weather conditions have been very favorable in Alberta during the past week. Both wheat and coarse grains coming along well and laud as color and germination are concerned, have seldom been in better condition than the present time. Although the stock is already in short blade, all sections have received rains since last report and there is sufficient moisture to carry crops for two or three weeks under normal weather conditions. Rye heading out on short side but may improve with recent rains. Pastures are in excellent condition and stock which is thriving. Reports indicate great amount of new land will be broken throughout province this season.

First half storm of season completely halted out 2,000 acres of wheat in district immediately of Ensign on the morning of 15th, also 120 acres in Acme district. Most of this grain will recover, but, of course, will be late.

Twin Weds Twin at Blackie

On Wednesday, June 6th, two of Blackie's popular young people were married at the house of the bride's parents. The twin daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Williams, Mary Lillian, to the twin son, Arthur Reginald, of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Manville. The bride's twin sister, Anne, was her bridesmaid. The groom was assisted by his twin brother, Charlie. A rare sight, a twin marrying a twin and both bridesmaid and bestman twin to the bride and bridegroom, respectively.

Miss Williams is well and favorably known in Strathmore, having been on the local staff of the Alberta Government Telephone.

GOVERNOR GENERAL ENGLISH LIGHTWIGHT VISITS PEACE RIVER DEFEATS F. MUELLER

A week's trip through the Peace River country during July is planned by Viscount and Lady Willington, according to word just received by Premier Brownlee. Their excellencies hope to leave Edmonton on their northern trip on July 15, going by train to Peace River, from there by motor to Dunvegan, thence by Hudson's Bay steamboat up river to Peace Coulee and driving back through the Valhalla district to Grande Prairie, from where they will return by train to Edmonton. It is the intention of the Government with the co-operation of various organizations in the north, to make the excursion into the northland a real event for the governor general and his party and to show them as much

CALGARY EXHIBITION, STAMPEDE, JULY 9 to 14

Calgary has become famous all over the world for its great annual celebration, the Calgary Exhibition and Stampede. An indication of its size is in the following attendance figures: 1922, 97,732; 1923, 127,242; 1924, 167,279; 1925, 178,661; 1926, 127,471; 1927, 210,475.

The Calgary Exhibition is the show window of Western Canada where magnificent display of live stock, government, agricultural, industrial and domestic exhibits may be seen.

This year the combined celebration will be held July 9th to 14th, when His Excellency, Viscount Willington, Governor General of Canada, and Lady Willington will be present and participate in many events during the week.

To provide for the tremendous crowds expected this year, a large addition is being made to the grandstand, which gives Calgary the second largest seating capacity of any exhibition in Canada. An extensive addition is also being made to the Cattle Pavilion.

The opening feature, the Stampede Parade, will this year surpass all others. Headed by His Excellency the Governor General and a number of men of prominence, followed by the Royal Air Force Band direct from London, it will be of special interest. There will be at least fifteen bands.

and the Parade will be seen by fifty or sixty thousand people. The Memorial Street display will be held on Tuesday and Thursday mornings.

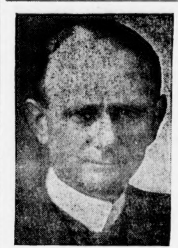

The Stampede events will be especially thrilling. The Exhibition has now a herd of seventy Brahms steers for the steer decorating and steer riding contests, and with the top backing horses purchased and others already arranged for, the best stock ever used at the Stampede is assured. There will be from fifteen to eighteen chuck wagons in the chuck wagon race and contests, and stockmen are coming from all over Western Canada and the Western States.

The running race programme will bring together the finest Thoroughbreds in the West and from the Western States. The vaudeville features are exceptionally clever and entertaining. On Saturday night the most spectacular fireworks ever seen at Calgary will conclude the programme.

ALBERTA CATTLE SHIPPED OVERSEAS

Some 300 head of Alberta cattle, comprising the first shipment of live cattle to leave Canada for over a year for Great Britain, were loaded on board the s.s. Manchester Regiment at Montreal on Thursday last, having been shipped direct, from Calgary.

NAMAKA U.F.A. HELD CONVENTION

The Convention of the Namaka U.F.A. and T.F.W. of this district, was held in the I.O.O.F. Hall at Namaka, Tuesday, June 12th.

Lunch was served cafeteria style at noon, and the meeting called to order by the president, Mr. Edith, shortly after. Following invocation by Mr. Buckley, the minutes of the previous meeting were read and adopted.

The meeting then took up resolutions, devoting considerable time to the "weed problem". A resolution, introduced by Mr. Leslie Weir, of Strathmore, which will be forwarded to the U.F.A. Annual Convention, asking that the provincial-wide bounty be paid on crows and magpies and their eggs, was passed.

Mr. S. J. Ewing, the weed supervisor for this district, was present, and on occasion by the convention, gave following talk relative to the work of weed supervision and agriculture.

Mr. Don S. Plummer, the well-known and genial Wheat Pool director for this district arrived on the four o'clock train, and gave a very thorough discussion of pool affairs. His address was doubly interesting because of his coming immediately from Regina World Pool Conference. Mr. Plummer also explained how the next crop would be handled, less elevator charges on initial payment instead of the patronage dividend, as is being done this year.

A hearty vote of thanks was tendered Mr. Plummer for his instructive talk, and the meeting adjourned, following which ice cream and cake were served by the ladies.

Grain Market Is Stifled

CHICAGO -- Turbulent complications and handicaps are stifling the grain market. To begin with, every vestige of public confidence was swept away by the recent rumors in wheat, rye and corn prices.

Perhaps later on something will happen to revive trading—but every body is wearing smug glasses these days. The opinions existed that the present crop of speculation in the stock market will wind up in the public "coming a cropper." That will mean that the public will have to find some other way to burn its fingers, or, which is the more reasonable view, the public will track back to the regular ways and means of making its daily money.

All grains are well worth present prices. Farmers will get higher prices for small grains.

Wheat is a world proposition. All of the international developments are bullish. Russia has been placed on the black bread basis—an unheard of event in peace times. Continental Europe will be on short rations, and North America should get a gorgeous price for wheat when exporters come back into the market.

CARSELAND

The baseball tournament, which was to have been held on July 2nd, has been changed on account of the U.F.A. picnic to Friday, June 29th. The four senior teams, Glenora, Arrowwood, Quakers and Carlsbad, will compete. Carlsbad was out in the tournament last week, so get behind the boys and see them win again on June 29th. Renaud and Phillips are in fine shape.

LIVE GOSSIP CLEANED FROM BOXING RINGS

According to Tex Rickard's figures, Sammy Mandell received $49,111.61 for his title match with Jimmy McLarin and although it is likely that he really did get more than that, Chicago ring worms who wanted the bout for the Windy City are whispering a lot of "I told you so's." Jim Mullen, Chicago promoter, was willing to guarantee Mandell $60,000, and it is possible that the champ's share would have been $100,000 had the thing been staged at Chicago. McLarin is said to have received $16,370.51.

The Tommy Loughran-Jimmy Slater title fight has been postponed. This means that Loughran will have to find a new date for his battle with Leo Lomski which was to have been held on June 14th.

Sammy Mandell once decided that Rockford, Ill. (the home town) wasn't enthusiastic enough about him and asked the boys of the press to refer to him as "of Chicago," but the other day when Sammy came home from his New York triumph, they had a hand down at the station, a parade and even an airplane rigged up. So now Sammy's sweet on Rockford again. It has become known that when Gov. Len Small appointed Al Mann to the Illinois boxing commission, he introduced the young man to agree with Chairman Paul Dehn in every particular. His honor evidently figures that Samuel Luzzo, the third member of the commission, might take a few hits from Mann.

Farmer Joe Cooper, colorful boxer has ridden 50,000 miles between fights from San Francisco to New York in a battered and worn flivver.

Jack Dempsey opines that there is at least one good fight left in him. "When I fight again, if I do," the ex-champ remarked the other day, "I'll be because I get my price. If I don't get it, I won't fight."

Paul (KO) Kaplan is anxious for a shot at the middleweight title and has asked the New York Comish why he cannot be considered when the boys take up their age-old custom of naming "outstanding contenders." Kaplan's record, incidentally, is one of the best that any 160-pounder can boast and it is true that he should be given some consideration.

It appears to be quite within the realm of possibility that Tony Canzoneri will not be called upon to defend his title for some months to come. The New York Wop was to have met Joey Sanger in an affair involving the featherweight division in Chicago some time this summer, but Joey's brother-manager is so hard to deal with that Jim Mullen has almost despaired of ever bringing the two together.

During 1927, 567,922 persons paid $3,485,830 to witness boxing and wrestling matches in Illinois. Of this amount $284,272 went to the state.

SPORT NOTES

MAD PLAY "BUST" AS SIRE

LIVERMINGTON, Ky.—The salt filed here by Walter J. Salmon, prominent sportsman of New York and Philadelphia in the Federal courts, involving the potency of Mad Play, which won more than $100,000 in stakes and prizes for the Raneocas Stable, a few years ago, is attracting world-wide attention.

The suit was filed by the Mereworth Stud, Incorporated, which Salmon is president and principal owner, and is against Hal Price Headley, owner of the horse, and master of Beaumont Farm.

Salmon asks for the return of $7,500 paid in the nature of a guarantee for five mares sent to the stud without issue.

The nature of the suit, the prominence of the persons involved and the rank of Mad Play as a racer make the proceedings one of the most unusual in turf history.

Mad Play is by Fair Play, sire of the great super horse, Man O'War, and is out of the mare Madcap. Mad Play came into prominence in his three-year-old form when he won the rich Belmont Stakes, beating the cracks of his age. His greater career was even marked by greater glory, when he captured the Brooklyn Handicap; the Empire City Handicap; the Queens County Handicap; Long Beach Handicap; Brookdale Handicap and other races of minor importance. This was in 1925. He was retired to the stud in 1926, when he was transferred from the Raneocas Stable to Kentucky. Out of forty starts in his two, three and four-year-old form, won 15 races, was second 9 times and third 10 times, winning $126,422.

BIG FEES ARE ASKED AS JOCKEYS REALIZE THEY HOLD WHIP HAND

Scarcity of good race riders was never more apparent than this season. Owners of good horses have experienced great difficulty in securing capable pilots for the big stake events in which their thoroughbreds are eligible to compete.

It is no open secret that the real star riders are alive to existing conditions, and whenever they are asked to accept outside mounts for an important event, do not hesitate to ask for a big riding fee.

In the Kentucky Derby, Stuyvesant Peabody was so anxious to secure the services of Jockey Earl Sande that he offered him $25,000 to ride Martie Flynn in addition he was willing to part with $7,500 additional in the event that Sande carried off the honors.

After several days of negotiating with Mr. Peabody, America's premier jockey informed the Chicago sports man that he did not desire to leave the East to ride in the derby. Sande made a very frank expression of his views by saying:

"I would like to ride the derby winner, and would dislike finishing back in the rack. I can't see how the clubs are going to beat Reigh County. Therefore I must decline the very kind offer to ride Martie Flynn."

That Sande has a high opinion of Reigh Oaks, which finished fourth in the derby, is evident from his acceptance of the mount on this race in the American Derby. John Herrick secured the services of Sande from Joseph Widener, which is an indication that no hard feelings now exist between the two of the leading of Reigh County by Sande, last season.

Inspection of racing records reveals that Sande, Pator, McAtee, Kelcey, Callahan, Timber, Malien, Collettelli, Fields, Mack Garner, "Sonny" Workman and Peabody are the best riders in the East. In Canada at present Schneider, Eichen, McCoy and Burns are practically the only capable middle artists performing.

Kentucky has a few good riders, Tool, Garner, Richards, Crump, Hessel and Ambrose are standard performers. Jockey Kern, an apprentice, gives promise of developing into a star, while T. Root has been riding fairly well.

Prospects for good riders in Illinois this season are not flattering. The lads who have been riding around Aurora with few exceptions do not know what it is all about. A majority are doing their best, but they toss away race after race by their incompetency. M. Meyer and C. Allen have shown good form at times, but they are far from being star performers.

Although Sande enjoys the reputation of being the greatest race rider in America, Eastern turfmen place him third on the list. Mack Garner, a Western boy, under contract to Wm. Zeigler, Jr., is now acclaimed the champion by all smart turfmen. "Garner is riding better now than (after Sande or Pator," said a smart turfman the other day. "He is the most consistent performer in the country. Sande and Garner are at ways doing their best. The same can be said of Pator on outside mounts, but when he is riding the Raneocas Stable thoroughbreds he is just as liable to be last as first."

FELSTEAD BRED TO STAY FOREVER

Felstead, the Derby winner, is a bay colt, foaled in 1925, bred by A. T. Watts, owned by Sir Hugo Clunette Owen, trained at Lambourn, Berkshire, by O. Bell, and ridden by H. Wragg—ran four times unsuccessfully as a two-year-old. He made his first appearance this year on a race course at Newbury, where he won comfortably the Spring Maiden Plate for three-year-olds, was third in Calistano in the Prince of Wales Plate at Epsom spring meeting, and unplaced at Flamingo in the 2,600 Guineas at Newmarket. Felstead is bred to stay forever—his sire, Spion Kop, won the Coarweeth and Alexandra Plate at Ascot twice. Spearmin, the sire of Spion Kop, also won the Derby and Grand Prix de Paris. Carbine, the sire of Spearmin, won the Melbourne Cup (if not twice) and is perhaps the greatest horse Australia has produced. Pelbington (the dam of Felstead) is by Lophers, a Derby winner, from Comparison by that rare stayer William the Third from Combe, by Carbine. Summed up, his pedigree reads: Carbine twice, Misting (to his second only to the incomparable Ormus) the winner of the Grand Prix de Paris, Inosony three times. A double cross of Thunderbolt by Stowell, Galopinist, Simon; nothing stouter in the Stud Book. The Duke of Portland brought Carbine from Australia to put to his mare by Sir Simon, and Felstead is a happy combination of this breeding. Spion Kop is making the season of 1928 at Old Connell, Newbridge, County Kildare, the stud farm of his owner, Colonel Oiler. Spion Kop's subscription list is full for 1928 as well as for 1929 and 1930 at 300 guineas.

RUMORED RETIREMENT OF JOCKEY EARL SANDE

A fire occurred at the farm of Mr. Laurie on Saturday evening, when an explosion from the lamp of a brooder set the building on fire, and before it could be extinguished, 250 chickens had been destroyed. This is rather an unfortunate occurrence, Mr. Laurie having just purchased the chickens. The rainy season has brought joy to the hearts of the farmer, and also a few dry days. It is not so with Dr. J. W. Giffen, who helped the stock deliver a nice baby girl at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Tew, of the C.P.R. The Power of the Pool Lies In Volume Control

The Canadian Wheat Pool Now Handles ONE FOURTH of the World's Exportable Wheat Surplus.

The Wheat Pool has given ample evidence of its usefulness to wheat growers since last harvest. Faced with the handling of a damaged crop and with a large increase in world production, the Pool has been successful to a considerable degree in preventing disastrous slumps. Every wheat farmer in Western Canada owes a debt of gratitude to the Wheat Pool.

The power of the Pool lies in its control of volume. Every bushel placed in the Pool means greater strength. The organization needs YOUR assistance.

The ideal of cooperation is working together for the common good. It is opposed to any system that makes a profit on the result of the labor of the producer. Its operations mean more wealth for all its producers.

Cooperation is not only a sentiment but an economic necessity. Let the hearts and minds of our farmers become enthused with its ideals and there is hope for the economic future of agriculture.

You who have not signed the Second Series Wheat Pool Contract gain nothing by delay. You only endanger the welfare of an organization that has proven the best friend the farmer has ever had.

The Tennis Club will hold a dance in the local hall on Friday, June 22.

In spite of the wet weather, there was a large attendance at the United Church on Sunday last when "Father's Day" was honored by the local Pastor. During the service, the Rev. P. H. Hasted announced that next Sunday, the 24th inst, he would conduct his last services on the Rosebud Charge. His resignation is due to the fact the house which has been rented as the Rectory has been sold and there is no other house available.

LANGDON

We desire in this public way to express to our friends and neighbors, the appreciation and gratitude we sincerely feel, for their liberal help during the sickness and critical time of our son's operation for gall, also for the many flowers and fruit, which has been appreciated very much. Mr. and Mrs. Dain and sons, Langdon.

ROCKYFORD UNITED CHURCH ITEMS

The Ladies Aid held a meeting in the Church on Thursday evening, to which they invited their husbands. A recent contest in a membership drive gave to Mrs. S. Roppel and her side, the honor of providing the entertainment for the meeting, and they did it in good order. Mrs. Mackenzie sang a solo. There was a quartette composed of Mrs. Pullon, Mrs. Mackenzie, Mrs. Conkleton and Mrs. Hocking; Miss Lillian Dyer recited, and all the numbers were well received. A flower and a grocery contest kept the people busy until supper was announced. The strawberries and cream, and the accompanying cake, etc., appealed to everyone. The storm prevented many from coming, but still a goodly number were there. Just before closing Mrs. Olson presented Mrs. Hocking with an ivory set (brush, comb and mirror) on behalf of the ladies, and wished her every success in the new field of labor.

Sunday Services will be held at the following points on Sunday, June 24th at which Mr. Hocking will preach: Landsend, 11 a.m.; Valley Garden, 2 p.m.; Rockyford, 3 p.m. On July 1st the new pastor will take charge.

TRIO TRY NEW VERSION OF "CONFIDENCE" GAME

WINNIPEG—A. Werrier, Winnipeg, was swindled out of $4,000 in cash by three alleged confidence men who "talked" him into investing this amount of his hard-earned money in an expensive dye imported from Germany. Werrier was told that the United States had placed an embargo on this dye and that he bought a quantity of it here he could sell it for a huge profit to a United States citizen who would meet him at a local hotel.

Werrier bought the dye which was handed to him in a valise. Suddenly the "con" men remembered urgent appointments and departed. Later Werrier opened the valise and his "expensive" dye revealed itself to be old plaster and other odds and ends. He notified the police who later took W. Karpaphy into custody charged with conspiracy.

Two other accomplices of the arrested man could not be located.

ROCKYFORD

Mr. and Mrs. R. Kenney have returned from their honeymoon.

The baseball tournament and dance will be held at Rockyford on June 27.

The death occurred last Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Kirby's youngest daughter, after a very short illness. Interment took place at the Rockyford Cemetery on Monday. The deepest sympathy of the community is extended to the bereaved family.

Mrs. Hewson won the prize in the dress-making contest, and Mrs. Ruppe in the buttonhole contest at the club meeting at the home of Mrs. Henry Katterhagen last week. Mrs. Hocking presented with a small gift, and Miss Birch gave a solo. The most interesting part of the program was the response to the roll call by poems of Edgar Guest. We insert one of the several that were given:

"A Modern Clothes Line"
 Time was that on Mondays the washing was done
 And the clothes hung to dry in the warmth of the sun.
 And they flapped in the breeze for the whole world to see,
 In the sight was as drab and as plain as could be.
 For the garments of old were of white, or of gray
 And they looked all alike in that old-fashioned day.

On Mondays the family washing's still done
 And hung out to dry in the warmth of the sun
 And it flaps in the breezes, but strange to behold
 There's a blend now of orchid and scarlet and gold.
 The drabness has vanished. The passerby views
 A radiant clothes line of marvelous hues.

I passed by a clothes line and chuckled in mirth,
 It seemed that a rainbow had fallen to earth,
 With its lavenders and blues, and its purples and pinks,
 And the tulle of yellow, called step-lins, I think.
 And I said as I looked at those dappled and tawny,
 "The only plain things on that line are a man's!"

A free Baby Clinic will be held in the basement of the United Church on June 26th, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. All children under school age are invited.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Johnson are rejoicing over the birth of a daughter, born June 14th. Dr. Hewson attended.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Walker are rejoicing over the birth of a daughter, born June 3rd.

ILLINOIS JURIST PRESUMES WOMAN IS NEVER WOOPER

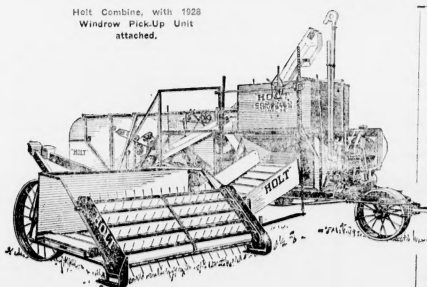

CHICAGO, Ill.—The law of Illinois according to an interpretation made here by Superior Judge Joseph David, presumes that in a courtship the man is the wooer and the woman the wooed unless otherwise proven.

Judge David instructed a jury to turn a verdict of affection suit brought by Mrs. Helen M. Higgins against the widow of his former law partner, Mrs. Abigail Q. Dejmek. The judge held that the plaintiff had not proven Mrs. Dejmek the aggressor in her alleged relationship with Higgins. A woman cannot be held responsible for her attractiveness to the opposite sex, the judge intimated, saying, "the law imputes no guilt from the attractiveness of a woman."

Holt Combine, with 1928 Windrow Pick-Up Unit attached.

Combined 1110 Acres
 Same Cost as 120 Acres
 Handled by Old Method

We threshed enough to know what the stacked grain would yield and could estimate approximately what it would cost us by this method and found that the one hundred and twenty acres handled by the old method would cost us a little more than the eleven hundred and ten acres combined with our "Holt" Combined Harvester.

Our experience in this, the worst year Alberta has ever known probably, for combining grain, has proved to our entire satisfaction that the weather and pick-up way of handling grain in this section is going to be the most wonderful blessing that has ever come to Southern Alberta, and what is good here may be just as good wherever windy summers cause straight combining to be of doubtful advisability.

We have doubted if we could get as good grades as by the old method, but the man who managed the elevator tells us that our grain had graded higher than the average stationary threshing in this vicinity.

Harold Smith went to see the doctor about his rheumatism, which is making him a nervous wreck. He says to Doc: "I ain't slept none for a week, says he. Doc, studied for a minute and then says, "I don't like to give drugs for this if I can help it," says he. "Suppose you try going to church, Smithy."

Tommy Grogan says one way to keep coolies and doughnuts safe from juvenile hands is to lock them in the pantry and hide the key under the soap on the washstand.

Pauline: "So your sweetie left town yesterday. Did your parting cause you any pain."

Maudie: "I'll say no. Every rib in my body aches."

Harold Smith, of Calgary, went to see Ura Peck's father a few days ago and says to him, "I'd like to marry your daughter if you ain't got no objections," says he.

"Are you in shape to support a wife?"

"Well," says Smithy "what I had in mind, was one of those here companionate marriages."

Frank Clutchie, after careful investigation, thinks that the man who is continually cracking jokes about women's clothing has very little to talk about.

It may be a mansion, it may be a dump, it may be a farm with an old cotten pump.

It may be a palace, it may be a flat; it may be a room where you hang up your hat.

It may be a house with a hole in the floor, Or marble hotel, with a con on the door.

It may be exclusive or simple or swell, A wee bit of heaven or one little—well.

Just try to remember, wherever you roam, That Shakespeare was right, kid: "There's No Place Like Home."

"He says he doesn't smoke, drink or gamble."

"Why, he must be nearly perfect."

"He would be if he wasn't such a liar."

A freshman at Harvard applied at the dean's office of the university for information relative to his father's college career.

"I should like very much to see my father's record. He was in the class of '78," announced the new student.

"I shall be glad to look up the record," replied the officer. "Have you any special reason for consulting it?"

"Well," answered the youth, "what has warned me again not to disgrace him, and I wish to see just how far I can go."

The old negro never had fished for anything but bullheads until his employer took him along to keep camp at the summer resort. He put out a small boat one morning, and by chance, hooked a fishy muskellunge. Before he knew it the fish jerked him up the boat.

"What Ah'd like to know," he said as he waded to shore, "is whether this nigger is fishin' or whether dat fish is niggerin'."

Employer: "I trust you are not the kind of workman who drops his tools and runs when the whistle blows."

John Baptiste: "Oh, no, sir. I always have my tools packed away long before the whistle blows."

Tramp: "Lady, I'm outa work. Could you let me have a bite to eat?"

Lady: "What is your line of work?"

Tramp: "Why, er—I am a specialist in the care of centipede plants, ma'am, especially at blossoming time."

Father (proudly): "Yes, my daughter is now receiving a man's wages."

Bobby Hambly: "Oat when did she marry?"

Businesslike voice (over telephone): "Who is this speaking?"

Willie (the office boy): "How should I know? I can't see you!"

Bill Tierney says a "Cat" is a woman who tells her female friend how well she is looking and asks if she has not gained fifteen or twenty pounds; one who looks at her new ring and says that she always did like those cute little inexpensive diamonds; or who remarks on how well her dress has made over, and wishes that she was clever like her and could make her own hats and frocks.

AGRICULTURAL EDUCATION

E. W. PHILLIPS, B.S.A.

This is a subject, the value of which does not need to be argued to the majority of people nowadays. Times have changed in that respect, since, as is well known, only a comparatively few years ago, specialized training for the occupation of farming, and of farm-house making, was often held up to derision by a great many as being unnecessary in view of the apparent simplicity of farm operations. This simplicity was always more apparent than real. Nevertheless, obviously agricultural education was a much less pressing need in those earlier days of clearing heavy bush lands on this continent than now, when present-day agricultural science, if available, could have been of great assistance.

Even then, nevertheless, it is only as an agricultural region becomes more highly developed and farm processes and farm life become more highly complicated, that an agricultural education becomes of greatest value.

It is frequently stated that conditions here in the west change rapidly. It was only slightly over fifty years ago that the last of the buffalo roamed these prairies, and hoisted in plains were still a menace. Even from fifteen to twenty years ago, when the influx of settlers was at its height, farm life and methods of farm production were comparatively crude and primitive. It is only reasonable to expect that conditions will continue to show great changes. Many of the methods of today will undoubtedly be obsolete ten years from now. Under these circumstances it is obviously to the advantage of everyone concerned with the highly competitive business of farming to keep in the front ranks of development, and to endeavor to avoid finding oneself in the position of operating under a handicap by reason of the use of out-of-date equipment, inferior types of varieties of crops or livestock, or by following a type of farming which is not indicated by current conditions of climate, soil, available markets, etc.

One of the principal functions of an agricultural school or college is the gathering and distributing of information on the developments which are taking place. This may be partly the result of experimental work, carried on at that or similar institutions, along such lines as a comparison of varieties of grains or grasses, crop rotations, feeding and handling of live stock, ways and means of growing a greater variety of vegetables, fruits and flowers for home use and adornment, etc.

This information is put into such form that it can be readily grasped and assimilated, and is then interpreted to the students in the light of past experience and observation of actual farm practice. There is no other way so effective whereby information resulting from accumulated experience can be presented so clearly to so many people, especially young people, as in this way.

There are those, even now, who claim that personal experience is the only school worth while. Personal experience is certainly of great value, but a life time is entirely too short for any one farmer to experiment and come to definite conclusions as to regarding everything that goes to make up a modern farm enterprise. Besides, except for its greater impersonality, it is difficult to see why so many insist that one's own experience is of so much greater value than that of someone else. "A fool learns by his own experience; a wise man learns by the experience of others."

There are other ways besides the teaching of subjects concerned with farm production, whereby the agricultural school may be of value to the students, and to the farm community. The training of farm girls in the profession of home-making, and the teaching of ways and means of bringing about those conditions, both within and outside of the home, which will tie the farm family to the land with the unshakeable belief that the farm offers preeminently the greatest opportunities for full and enjoyable living is also a great end.

In almost no other occupation are the businesses and the home so closely connected, and the one depends so much upon the other.

If in the city, the home atmosphere is not congenial, and if any unmarried or careless housewife persists in service less than desirable to the household, the man of the house may resort to the restaurant and the club, and obtain his food and his company elsewhere. It is not so on the farm. If the farmer's support in the home consists of badly cooked and ill chosen food, served with a constant barrage of complaints as to the hard and unattractive lot of the farm woman, then a previous determination to do great things in agriculture may easily recede into a dull and hopeless apathy. The result on the coming generation is, of course, even more demoralizing, and from such homes comes a large share of those who provide the cityward drift. Upon the ability, the mental outlook, and the degree of contentment of the farm woman depends more of the "practical" as well as the cultural aspects of farming than might appear at first thought. The development and improvement of those factors is the principal object of the course for girls in the agricultural schools of this province, and no one who has had an opportunity to observe the work being done will deny that it is effective.

The usefulness of students, not only to themselves, but to their communities, can be increased by training at the schools of agriculture. Practices in the schools of agriculture, practiced in written and oral expression is one of the principal means. The incidental experience and training received from mingling with a considerable number and variety of other students, in organizing and carrying on their athletic, social, and literary activities, are highly useful assets. Most enterprises of the present day, whether individual or community, are carried on on the basis of, or with the aid of, co-operation. Few individuals are able to carry themselves to a position of reasonable influence and success without having and using the faculty of being able to work with other people to a common end, and to let their aid in one's undertakings, and to give similar aid in return. The comparative isolation of a farm is not the best place to develop that faculty; an educational institution of moderate size, especially if the students are accommodated in dormitory residences is probably unsuited in that respect. Every opportunity is offered in the Alberta Schools of Agriculture for the conscious or unconscious development of that cooperative spirit which is one of the great needs of our agricultural system of today.

THE INDEMNITY IN CANADA AND U. S.

WINNIPEG—Those members of Parliament who were trying to boost the seasonal indemnity met with disappointment. It was reported that nothing would be done in the matter at this session. Does that mean that it remains open, with a possibility of something being done next year?

If the Government has regard for public opinion it will leave the matter alone. Comment in the newspapers of the different parties is against any increase. The Toronto Star, Liberal, says that nobody has made out any thing like a convincing case for raising the indemnity. The Farmers' Sun declares that the members are already well paid and that the farmers are

"in no mood to countenance further extravagance at this time". The Ottawa Journal, Conservative, thinks that the $4,000 for four or five months spent at Ottawa is a sufficient indemnity, and it mentions that, besides this, the privileges of members include free transportation, travelling expenses, free stationery, comfortable office rooms in the Parliament Buildings, the right to frank all their mail,

IT IS SAID

That Ray Melville is a busy man, selling automobiles, handling oil affairs, and looking after many domestic problems. June sure is a busy month, eh, Ray.

That Bobby Hambly cannot make up his mind whether to spend his holiday in Carleton or Standard. He would like to go to Carleton, but on the other hand, he is anxious to see how low last Jim Swanson really can go.

That Jimmie Kelly says, "Let's go and see Jean and Jim, they are a great team."

That Strathmore will surely be a deserted town on Monday, July 2nd, with a real sports day at Standard and Carleton.

That Jean Kimmert, of the Hotel de Kimmert, Standard, is turning guests away each night since the hospital.

That Strathmore assumed the position of Private Secretary.

That "Pat" is very jealous of the War Memorial Pictures.

That Tommy White is thinking about arranging another boxing bout for Strathmore.

That Bill Saunders finds that hand-ling a band, assisting with a baseball team, conducting a harness business, preparing for the Irvine, and keeping a fellow occupied beyond the union schedule of eight hours a day.

That Dick Lilly sent his dog to "port" down the Elks carnival in Calgary, so that he might have less time to feed the canine and more time to write his insurance.

That John Baptiste is giving the matrimonial question serious consideration.

That the L.O.D.E. Dance on Friday night, June 22nd, will be a most enjoyable affair.

That Manager Leslie West, of the Stampeche, has made arrangements for some California cart races for the Strathmore Stampeche on July 14th, but will surely be a knock-out. Fossy Leslie knows what the public likes.

Increase, no doubt, mention the fact that the indemnity of the members of Congress at Washington was recently raised from $7,000 to $10,000.

Talk was done in 1925 when the members of Congress took advantage of the boom times in that country to be a good deal more generous to them-selves than formerly. Apart from this, there are definite reasons why the indemnity paid in the United States should not be taken as an ex-ample for Canada. This is not nearly so rich a country, and the Government has a relatively heavier burden of debt, so that it cannot afford to be too liberal with the money it receives from the taxpayers. Also, the members of the House of Representatives at Washington, who are at least four-fifths of all the members of Congress, are elected for only two years, and such frequent elections involve much more expense than here, where the Parliamentary term is normally four years.

The present indemnity of $10,000 is quite enough for the member who has no great means and could not go to Parliament with a member of the House for the members who have more means or greater earning capacity. It is to be remembered that it was not intended to be a salary. It is compensation, but just a fair allowance and what the country feels that it can afford.
